Re-entrenchment?
But one of the more interesting aspects of the discussion is an already well-known, but seldom mentioned, fact: the fact that the United States is a country of immigrants. In 1990, for example, 19.7 million of the 247 million people living in the United States were foreign-born. And the number of immigrants is growing. In 1990, 1.2 million immigrants entered the United States, and the number is expected to rise to 1.5 million by 2000.

Top Baguio execs defy order to tear down poll materials

Baguio, Jan. 16 (PNA) — Top executives of the Baguio City government have defied a court order to tear down campaign materials for the upcoming local elections. The executives, including Mayor Jesus Crispin Balweg, Jr., and several councilors, have refused to comply with the order issued by the Regional Trial Court in Baguio. They claim that the materials are part of their campaign strategy and are necessary to inform the voters. The court order was issued after a complaint was filed by a group of candidates who claimed that the materials were misleading and violated election laws. The court order required the executives to tear down the materials within a specified time frame. WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Catholic Church in the Philippines is facing a new challenge as the country's bishops and priests grapple with the issue of homosexuality. The Philippine Bishops' Conference (CBCP) has issued a statement that condemns homosexuality as a "sinful and unnatural" act, but also calls for a more compassionate approach to the issue.

Homosexuality remains a controversial topic in the Philippines, with many people holding strong beliefs about its morality. The CBCP's statement is seen as a significant step in the church's ongoing dialogue with the modern world.
